Agenda

Meeting Theme:

Our journey through the pandemic has been a shared experience that has frayed some connections while also deepening others. What can we learn by reflecting on our experiences and applying tools and best practices to better navigate the new world we live and work in? Strong working relationships are built by approaching each other with empathy, creating space for idea sharing, difficult conversations, and divergent viewpoints, and acknowledging that people want to bring their best selves to the workplace.

During the 2022 Biosciences Area Annual Meeting, we look forward to reestablishing and strengthening connections across our various work modes, roles, teams, and units.
